TRRG is an all-volunteer coalition of individuals who live within Tucson's city limits and share common concerns and values. Over the past decade, city residents have often found that the City's processes, procedures and policies have not served them well. In order to effect meaningful change, they formed Tucson Residents for Responsive Government (TRRG) in 2014. Their goal is to see their City government display five essential values: Integrity, Transparency, Accountability, Collaboration, and Sensitivity to Quality of Life. TRRG welcomes any organization, association, or non-resident who shares their values to become a FRIEND of TRRG.

I/We understand that as a FRIEND of TRRG, I/we will have no dues, but TRRG will gladly accept donations to cover printing, meeting and other maintenance costs. I/We have no voting rights and will not be eligible to be TRRG officers. However, I/we will add our voice to strengthen the influence that TRRG can assert to advocate for better City of Tucson government.

I/We give permission to be included in a list of FRIENDS of TRRG which will be on the website. The name will remain there unless I /we send a written request to TRRG for its removal.

I/We support the TRRG mission, which is to effect concrete change in the way the City of Tucson's government interacts with its residents to ensure that integrity, transparency, accountability, collaboration and sensitivity to quality of life govern all city processes.
